About WissHom

The Scientific Society for Homeopathy (WissHom) was founded in Köthen (Anhalt, Germany) in 2010.

WissHom aims to:

- evaluate what is currently known
- create new homeopathic knowledge
- foster homeopathic research
- develop excellent teaching and learning programmes and
- establish the study of homeopathy at university level.

For this purpose, WissHom closely cooperates with scientists, professional organisations and research institutes at national and international level.

Join us!

The work of WissHom takes place in working groups (in German) which operate within three sections:

- Research
- Practice
- Education

In the sections work groups are formed to look at relevant subject areas and the results of their work are published.

The WissHom website (in German and English) is actively and widely used as a source of information and communication platform.

The WissHom Congress "International Coethen Exchange of Experiences (ICE)" will be hold regularly as a forum for the presentation and discussion of the most important and interesting results of scientific work in homeopathy.

Become a Member!

Membership in WissHom is open to all person acting in the field of homeopathic research or teaching, or who wishes to support its activities, is committed to the purpose of WissHom and agrees to abide by its Statutes.
